

ABSTRACT

A pharmaceutical formulation for oral administration of an pharmaceutically active compound is described which includes a tablet core containing an uncoated granulation of a
5 therapeutically effective amount of at least one pharmaceutically active ingredient, an optional surface active agent, an optional pharmaceutically acceptable alkaline agent and a combination of at least one water soluble binder and at least one water insoluble binder, whereby controlled release is achieved by way of the water soluble and water insoluble binders.